Distinguished Facts about your Institution

- PTC operates seven campuses across its seven-county service region in the Piedmont of South Carolina.
- Because of SC WINS and other scholarship opportunities, up to 70% of students in PTC's seven-county service area can attend college tuition-free.
- PTC extends a Job-Ready Guarantee to every graduate to demonstrate the college's longstanding commitment to providing students with the right training for today's jobs. The Guarantee allows students to be confident that they are entering the workforce with the right skill set while also showing employers that our graduates have the necessary training to succeed in the job, from day one. The Job-Ready Guarantee covers retraining, if needed, at no cost to the graduate or employer.
- PTC operates two high-tech Centers for Advanced Manufacturing, one in Laurens and one on its Greenwood campus. In addition to providing the newest, most sophisticated equipment to train in mechatronics, machine tool, and welding, both centers also offer flexible space for local employers to implement tailored training programs.

- Piedmont Technical College was awarded a Gold Medallion from the National Council for Marketing and Public Relations for its redesigned website. In addition to featuring engaging content and timely videos, the site includes a dynamic course catalog and virtual tours of selected campuses.

- New Buildings Opened fall 2021: 228,000-square-foot facility will provide state-of-the-art research and classroom space for the Tickle College of Engineering and a new dining facility includes a full-service Chick-fil-A and a fresh food concept -the dining area will feature vaulted ceilings, fireplaces, and extra-large windows.
- Engineering students at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, earned the title of world champions at the 2021 VEXU Robotics World Championship in Greenville, Texas. Tickle College of Engineering's Vex University Robotics Team, YNOT, was one of more than 300 teams from universities around the world to compete throughout the season for a qualifying spot. Grant Kobes, a senior from Spartanburg, South Carolina, is the founder and lead designer for YNOT. He launched the team four years ago as a project for his honors leadership studies minor through the Honors Leadership program. His goal was to create an opportunity for engineering students to gain hands-on experience with the engineering design process.
- Record Enrollment: more than 5,900 new first-year students joined the Volunteer family, making up the largest first-year cohort on record and marking a 23 percent increase in new first-year enrollment over the past five years. Members of this year's first-year class hail from 88 counties in Tennessee and 44 states across the US.

Distinguished Facts/Updates about your Institution

- ✓ New Majors: Music Industry Studies, Musical Theatre, and Cyber Intelligence
- ✓ Top-rankings for Honors College, public First-Year experience and International Business programs
- ✓ Test-optional process:
 - Test-optional applies to all areas: admission, scholarship consideration and Honors College applications.
 - Students will select within the application if they wish to have their test scores considered or not.
 - Official scores previously sent directly to UofSC will be considered if the student indicates for them to be.
 - Eligibility for state scholarships still requires test scores; students can apply to UofSC test-optional but will still need official scores sent to be awarded these scholarships prior to enrollment.
 - Should a student change their mind about which testing plan they want, they can change it by November 1 for Early Answer and January 15 for Regular Decision. The selected testing plan will apply across the board. Students cannot have different testing plans for admission and scholarship consideration.
 - Students who choose to submit scores may self-report them on the application or add more later to their UofSC Admissions Portal for admission consideration (up until their credential deadline). Students applying Early Action may still submit scores past the November 1 credential deadline for scholarship consideration.
- ✓ UofSC is a member institution of the Coalition for College; however, no longer uses its application.
- ✓ School report forms are emailed to counselors once a student enters your name and email address in the application. In addition to the UofSC school report form, we accept forms from Common App, NACAC or SCOIR and do not have a preference for which one you send. UofSC accepts fee waivers from NACAC, SAT/ACT application fee waivers, Common App, SCOIR, and if a student is enrolled in a TRIO program, their fee will be waived during the application process.
